WINDHAM HIGH 11, BULKELEY 7. Women's Guaranteed Black Hose, six Kelley's Perfect Batting Helps to Put Bulkeley Pitcher to the Woods.

The loyal rooters who went to Windham field Friday afternoon were amply repaid for their trouble and saw the home nine win out in a game replete with all kinds of ball playing. It was Windham's day all right and that was evident from the start, when in the opening inning, after Bulkeley had scored two runs on a punky play. Kelley started to send Wall to the tall timbers, and paved the way for Windham to crack out a bunch of three sinham to crack out a bunch of three singles, netting one run, before the side was retired. Wall was found for a two

Charles E. Ferguson Escapes from Brooklyn Jail-Marksmen Named to Compete in State Rifle Match-Applicants for Rural Delivery Appoint-

Charles Edward Ferguson has escaped from Brooklyn jail. He may not be recaptured, but in any event this particular criminal has given one more surprise to the persons in this section who have come to know about him. Jailer Fields raced over a good part of the eastern end of the county in his automobile Friday looking for the fleeing prisoner. He did not find him, but he learned that a man answering the description boarded a westbound freight at Abington about two hours after the escape from the jall.
Ferguson had served all but seve weeks of a sentence of six months for weeks of a sentence of six months for breaking and entering the Frank Weaver house in Brooklyn last year. When he was tried and pleaded guilty to the charge in the superior court at gutnam his story created wide sympathy. Judge Robinson was so impressed that he refrained from imposing sentence to permit Ferguson time to demonstrate the truthfulness of his story of hard luck and previous his story of hard luck and previous honesty. Ferguson, tall, reserved and almost clerical in appearance, hung his head in apparent shame and said that vorce for Wife. The story of the wrengs heaped on Elizabeth Doran by her husband inspired a thrill of sympathy as she related her misfortunes to the court. Mrs. Doran was married to Patrick Doran in Bennington, Vt. fifteen years ago. Three years ago they came to Putnam. They have three children; the eldest 12, the youngest 8 years. The second child is a deaf mute. Mrs. Doran testified that her life was a continual horror. Her brutal huscontinual horror. Her brutal hus-band drank and caroused and many a time threatened to kill her and the children, and occasionally to do away with himself. Known to his fellow employes as "Simon Legree," he lived up to the reputation by beating the little deaf and dumb son at the slightest provocation or without any at all. was very ill and almost penniless.

Henderson J. Hall (colored) of Put nam. alleging adultery against Agnes J. Hall, was given a divorce and the custody of their nine year old daugh-ter, now in the care of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Howard at Norwich. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were married in Putnam August 16, 1899, and lived here up to the time of Mrs. Hall's desertion, seven years ago.
Mr. Hall said that some of his wife's men "cousins" were in the habit of calling on her while he was away from that Mrs. Hall was convicted in the city court of Norwich on July 7, 1907, of being in a disorderly house and was sent to jail.

Simon Beverly Howard told of knowing about Mrs. Hall living in a box car at Allyns Point with a Portuguese coal shoveler and that when she came to Norwich she was "as sure of getting a skinful of liquor as a duck is to swim." Senator C. E. Scarls represented Mr. Hall.

Husband Seeks a Decree. Willimantic, and a dyer for the Am Willimantic, and a dyer for the American Thread company, sought a separation from Dora J. Congdon, now of New York, alleging adultery. They were married in Burrillville, R. I., April 19, 1902, and up to the time she left her husband, March 24, 1908, they lived in Willimantic, but, as her husband stated, she had not really been a wife for several months previous to that time.

Congdon told the court that his Congdon told the court that his wife had admitted to him her infi-delity and asked him to take her back on her promise of future chastity. He refused. Mrs. Congdon went to New York. Letters to her sister Louise of Pittsfield, Mass., were introduced by Attorney King, representing the plain-tiff. The letters, written in New York. tiff. The letters, written in New York, were suggestive of the gay doings of the Great White Way, frivolously alluring in their inducements to "Kiddo Lou" to come down and share the familiarities of her sister's "friends."

Orlando P. Smith, employed at the Willimantic postoffice, told of seeing Mrs. Congdon going into the Washburn block in Willimantic. He told it as if such a happening was significant, in his home city. Mrs. Katherine W.
